PLATE WORKS WILL START HERE IN A FEW WEEKS

Two Head Officials Arrive In Charleroi At Noon And Give
Out Announcement That Works Will Start As Soon As Possible.

FIRE WILL BE STARTED IN FURNACES AT ONCE

The gladsome tidings that the Charleroi plant, of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass company will start and that at once was brought to Charleroi at noon today, by Lee Chandler, a head official of the company and J. W. Cordes, head machinist of the entire company. Fires are to be lighted at once, and the factory will be running in full within three weeks for the first time since the first of March or over seven months. Hundreds will be given employment and Charleroi will again be at the head of the towns of the valley as a manufacturing centre.

A number of the old employees of the local works who went to Tarentum when the plant there started are returning to this place and many of the employees who live in the vicinity of Tarentum are coming to Charleroi, anticipating the opening in full of the works here. It is stated that the company will put to work a number of their old employees at clearing up the debris of the demolished factory at Tarentum and that the plant will be rebuilt. The latter statement is not given as a fact however for if the Pittsburgh Plate Glass company finds that with the Charleroi factory running, they can keep pace with the contracts which are being received, there will not be any need of the erection of another plant on the spot of the old one at Tarentum.

The Charleroi plant as has been stated in a previous paragraph has been closed since the first of March. Work has been going on in one or more departments ever since, however, but on a very small scale, the only work done being that of the fulfillment of contracts which were on hands at the time of shutting down. Repairs have been made and that work is still being continued. The factory has run almost continuously for many years and much of the machinery was sadly in need of attention. It was understood that the works were to be reopened as soon as the company got everything in shape and had enough orders on hands to warrant, but the fire at Tarentum when over one-half of the plant was burned will only hasten matters.

QUICKER SERVICE FOR WEST PENN

Brownsville, Oct. 6.—Faster service on the Brownsville line of the West Penn will go into effect with the new schedule on that division Wednesday. Efforts have been made to reduce the running time on this line and the experiment will be given a thorough trial. Officials of the road have been working on this matter for some weeks past and have prepared a schedule which will, it is believed, meet the demands of the traveling public in this section.

Juvenile Court Hearings.
Charley Turner, a young colored lad of Donora, was in juvenile court yesterday on the charge of being incorrigible, and was committed to Morgantown. The boy has been in court before and was allowed to go on probation; but Mrs. Morris, a juvenile court representative, told the court that she believed it better that the lad be sent where he would not have so many temptations to do wrong.

Mules Coming to Surface
Ellsworth, Oct. 5.—Over 1,200 men are idle as the result of the closing of the two mines at this place. The mules which have been housed in the mines for a long time will be brought to the surface as the fans will stop running owing to the scarcity of water. The Cokeburg mines were shut down a few days ago.

Mrs. J. J. Reilly of Chicago, Ill., arrived today for a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Darby, of Fallowfield avenue.

REPUBLICAN CAMPAIGN IS FORMALLY INAUGURATED IN WASHINGTON

The Republican campaign in Washington county was formally inaugurated last evening with the opening of headquarters in the Watson building, South Main street, Washington. There was a big attendance and in every way the opening was satisfying to all persons interested. Many of the candidates for office at the coming election were present and from the several representatives from various districts of the county the present situation, as far as the county ticket is concerned was thoroughly canvassed.

From this time until election day headquarters will be kept open. Much of the time County Chairman A. H. Anderson hopes to be present and during his absence C. E. Holder with a force of clerks will be on hand. Chairman Anderson said last night:

"The opening of headquarters here marks the beginning of the campaign, which promises to be an aggressive one and every effort will be made to put through the straight ticket from Taft down, with the usual large majority."

John K. Tener, candidate for congress, was present from Charleroi during the afternoon yesterday and spent some time in conferring with the officers of the organization. Asked yesterday as to his outlook in the political contest Mr. Tener replied:

"A good foot racer never looks back to see how far he is ahead of his competitor, but keeps looking ahead to see how far he has to go."

At headquarters last night Mr. Tener said:

"I can see no reason why the straight ticket in Washington county will not win out by the usual large majority. I have heard of but few desertions from the party, while on the other hand there are apparently a number of voters who would rather trust the future to a continuation of the Roosevelt policy than take chances under an unknown and untried leader. From Beaver and Lawrence counties, which with Washington constitutes the 24th district, I have every assurance of a great Republican victory, and as I said before I have no fear of Washington county, as it has always rallied to the support of the regular nominees."

Washington To Vote On City

Washington, Oct. 6.—The court yesterday afternoon, after several hours' hearing on the petition for a writ of premptory mandamus on the borough and council, commanding that they be required to submit to the voters the question of changing the borough into a third class city, granted the writ prayed for and made a decree that council should, without unnecessary and unreasonable delay, meet and provide for the adoption of the resolution required and give proper publication and take any other action needed in the premises; and that they do this promptly and efficiently.

LEG BROKEN AT ELDORA IN A RUNAWAY

C. E. Brooks, proprietor of the Eldora Merchandise Co., at Eldora, was thrown from a delivery wagon during a run away yesterday while driving from Eldora to Donora, and had his right leg badly fractured above the ankle.

Brooks was riding with the driver of the wagon, James Waters, and as they started down the hill at the cemetery one of the shafts broke and the horse bolted. With but one shaft attached to the horse the wagon was thrown from one side of the road to the other, and both Brooks and Waters were thrown to the ground.

Waters escaped but Brooks was badly bruised and his leg fractured.

Brooks came to Eldora last Thursday from Pittsburgh with his family and took charge of the Eldora store.

Doctors Woods, Day and Sprouls were called and reduced the fracture.

Petitions Court To Remit Money

Washington, Oct. 6.—Rachel Cornelius, who furnished bail in the sum of $500 for Harry G. Paxton, who failed to appear at court and was afterwards rounded up by Detective McCleary, petitioned court to remit the forfeiture of the recognizance. The court granted the petition, except as much thereof as shall be necessary to reimburse the county for the expense incurred in apprehending Paxton.

SENTENCES ARE IMPOSED UPON LIQUOR DEALERS

Three violators of the liquor law, on their pleas of guilty, were arraigned yesterday before Judge J. F. Taylor at Washington for sentence.

William McCoy, an aged resident of Canonsburg was sentenced to pay a fine of $500 and costs and undergo imprisonment in the county jail three months. McCoy stated that he is aged 83 years, and that he engaged in the illegal sale of liquor to make a living and to keep from going to the poor house. The court remarked that it would have been more honorable in him if he had chosen the poor house instead of violating the law.

The son, Frank McCoy, was given a stiff sentence, as follows: For selling liquor illegally, $500 fine, costs and three months in the work house, to be commuted from the end of the first sentence; for selling on Sunday, $50 fine and 20 days to the work house; for selling to minors, $50 fine and 20 days to the work house.

Charles Greek, of Manifold, entered a plea of guilty to running a speakeasy and was sentenced to pay costs, $500 fine and undergo imprisonment in the workhouse three months.

PASTORS OF METHODIST CHURCH ARE ASSIGNED

Vandergrift, Pa., Oct. 5.—The meeting of the Methodist Episcopal conference of the Pittsburgh district next year will be at Bellevue. This was decided when Rev. H. L. Smith, at this morning's session, invited the conference to make such decision, which, he said, was earnestly desired by the Methodist people there. Bellevue had no contest and no opposition was shown.

Rev. J. B. Risk presented the resolution that the Prohibition alliance of the conference be resolved into the Conference Temperance society, that the objections might be removed of fastidious Methodists who have shrunk from an appearance of belonging to a political organization within the church, and turned in ready-made officers of the proposed new organization, including himself for president, and H. M. Carnahan for secretary and treasurer.

Assignments of pastors were made. Those in this district are as follows: Charleroi, A. M. Doak; California, S. M. Mackey; Coal Centre, T. M. Dunkle; Monongahela, J. F. Murray; Marianna, J. G. McMinin; Donora, O. B. Emerson; Coal Centre, W. J. Law; Bentleyville, J. S. Allison, Jr.; Beallsville, O. B. Patterson; Allentown, W. E. Sietter.

WILL LEARN AUTHORITY OF POLICE WITH CHILDREN

Council Thinks Something Should Be Done At Once To
Keep Youngsters Off Streets After Curfew—MacBeth
Evans Company Presents Petition.

BILL OF WEST PENN ELECTRIC COMPANY IS HELD UP

Complaints were in to council last night, at their regular meeting, concerning the failure of children of this place to pay any attention to the curfew at night and when approached by the police defying the authority of them to make them go home after the ringing of the bell. Not only this, the police say, but youngsters in many cases are defended by their parents who tell them that they do not have to obey the curfew. The police claim that they can do nothing in the matter, being unable to arrest the children under the age of sixteen. Council thought that something should be done, and that at once, so placed the matter in the hands of the police committee, with full power to act. They will investigate and learn the various phases of the law on the matter and then take such action as they see fit.

A representative of the MacBeth, Evans Glass company, Mr. Schnellbach, was present with a petition to have the company released from the paying for fire plugs which they had installed a few years ago, at their own expense. It appears that there are seven plugs for which the company are paying at the rate of $35 per year or a total $245 per year. They claim that as they pay large tax in Charleroi and furnish a place for the employment of a large number of men that the expense of maintaining the plugs is too much and desire not only to have the borough take upon themselves the expense of these but also ask that they be reimbursed for the previous four years that they have stood the expense. Council arranged to go in a body to investigate on next Monday evening and take the matter up at their next meeting.

The bill of the West Penn Electric company for services extending from July 1st to September 30, the total amount of which is $1181.70 was held up, the members of council thinking that they are not getting the proper service. Mr. Johnson, of the company was present and heard complaints which were made.

The treasurer's report was read, proved acceptable and was ordered filed. A summary of it follows:

Total Receipts for month, $5,813.93
Balance from last report .. 4,785.65

Total .. 10,599.58
Total disbursements .. 10,540.11

Balance in Treasury .. 59.47

C. E. Bell was present and desired that he be given the grade for Seventh street, between Washington and Lincoln avenues, stating that he wanted to lay a permanent sidewalk. The matter was placed in the hands of the street committee with power to act. Andrew Hosnick was present to learn if anything had been done concerning the grade at his property on Thirteenth street. The street committee reported that nothing had been done for the reason that it would require the expenditure of too much money to put the place in shape. William J. Ward was present to learn if the "Borough Counting" machine, which had recently been shipped here on approval had proved satisfactory. The real estate committee was appointed to look after the matter.

The matter of the connection of the fire bell which the contracting company that is putting the addition to the borough building has been forced to cut, was taken up and it was decided that the clerk should write to the men and have them finish their work at once so that the bell could be put in shape for the ringing of alarms.

President Jones reported that a member of the Twilight council had conferred with him relative to the filling of this end of a county bridge which is to be built over Maple creek, connecting Charleroi and Twilight boroughs. The matter was referred to the street committee with power to act.

The report of the tax collector was read and accepted and several bills were accepted and a warrant ordered drawn on the treasurer for the separate amounts. Adjournment was taken to meet again at the call of the president.

Miners to Elect Officers.

In December the election of the officers of District No. 5, of United Mine Workers, will take place and already the candidates are beginning to warm up. Francis Feehan, who has been president for over two years
will be out for re-election, and will be opposed as far as is known by but one man, James S. Clark, of Carnegie.
Both are popular men, but Feehan is considered the stronger man by far.
He has held the position for two years
and now is in a successful third term.
A favorite among the miners of the district and a thorough and competent mining man, the ones who will vote
will elect him without much opposition.

For the vice presidency there will doubtless be more of a conflict. The ones who have announced up to this time are A. Kephart, of Carnegie and
W. H. Jones of Roscoe. The race
for membership on the executive board will also, it is thought, furnish some excitement.

There has been some talk of Patrick Dolan, the ex-president of this district getting into the fight, but those who are familiar with the situation are confident that he will not take a hand. The discord between the present district officials and the national officers will cause Dolan to use every effort to defeat Feehan,
however, but there is little chance for any success in this direction. The discord has existed since T. L. Lewis succeeded John Mitchell.

The district officials claim that the national has placed organizers in this field without consulting the district
officers and that these organizers have tried to create dissension instead of harmony, greatly to the disadvantage
of the district officers.

High Appropriation.

Eight million dollars will be expended for the education of children
in public schools in the state of Washington during the present scholastic year. This is $52 per capita, based on the average daily attendance of more than 152,000, and is the highest appropriation of any state in the Union. Fifty-one dollars per capita or $7,200,000, was expended in 1907-8,
as against $5,649,856, at the rate of $42 a pupil, the previous year. Spolkane headed the list in the United States on its investments in school

property, the amount allowed for interest being $1.50 per capita, and it is second with $8.50 for maintaining schools.

The school fund in Washington is raised under what is known as "the bare-foot law" and each county obtains its share, based on the aggregate days' attendance in proportion to that of the entire state. For this purpose $9,810,274.64 was raised last year. The law provides for the raising of $10 for each census pupil, the rest being derived by tax levy and through other sources.

BEST ATTRACTION OF THE SEASON

The bill as presented at the Star
theatre last night surpasses anything
that has been given there this season.
Two packed houses being the result.

The Darktown Minstrel Act which is composed of a company of five is an act that is highly pleasing and produces a continued laugh. It is opened with the regulation minstrel setting
and is without doubt the best act of its kind ever booked by the Star.
Palmer and Allison, banjoists are an exceedingly clever pair and the numbers rendered by them are all high-class. Rob Roy the man with the hats is in a class by himself and affords great amusement to the audience. The moving pictures and illustrated song are much above the average.

Millinery.

A new and up to date millinery and dry goods store has been opened, Mr.
F. L. May, of this city in the old stand formerly occupied by M. Wells.
The stock is entirely new and up of getting new goods, new styles at prices that will prove very interesting.

Mr. May cordially invites all the ladies of this and surrounding towns to call and inspect his stocks. 4576.

ning masked highwaymen held up and ed to the Washington officers for were busy with their "guns." The

pected that by tomorrow the pile driver will be at work again on the other side of the river.

is nearly completed. If the water does not rise before the main span is completed the bridge will be ready

Poor Old Maids.

There are about twenty of us
Poor Old Maids
And we're in an awful muss
For we've tried and tried in vain
Man's affections to obtain
Till we've fairly wrecked our brain
Poor Old Maids.

Oh, if we could only find
Poor Old Maids
Some few men to change their mind
Poor Old Maids
Then how happy we should be
From all worldly care set free
And we'd sing and dance with glee
Poor Old Maids.

Forty summers have we spent
Poor Old Maids
And invested many a cent
Poor Old Maids
But all in vain, it was no use
Upon us they just heaped abuse
And left us all without excuse
Poor Old Maids.

Now at last we found a plan
Poor Old Maids
Where each one might get a man
Poor Old Maids
So on Friday night at eight
Our sad story we'll relate
When we hope to meet our fate
Poor Old Maids.

There we ask each bachelor friend
Poor Old Maids
Our convention to attend
Poor Old Maids
'Tis the best chance of your life
For you all to choose a wife
And 'twill end our dreary strife
Poor Old Maids.

The admission is so low

All should make a point to go
Poor Old Maids
And the money that is made
Will most fittingly be paid
To benefit the Laides Aid

Charleroi Court No. 41, Tribe of Ben
Hur, the following resolutions were adopted on the death of Mrs. Margaret B. Carroll:

Whereas, The Great and Supreme Ruler of the Universe has in His infinite wisdom removed from among us
our worthy and esteemed sister, Margaret B. Carroll; and whereas,
the long and intimate relation held
with her in the faithful discharge of her duties in this society, makes it eminently benefiting that we record our appreciation of her; herefore

Resolved, That the wisdom and ability which she has exercised in the aid of our organization by service,
contributions and counsel, will be held
in grateful remembrance.
Resolved, That the sudden removal of such a life from our midst
leaves a vacancy and a shadow that will be deeply realized by all the

tion.

Resolved, That with sympathy with the bereaved relatives of the deceased
we express our hope that even so great a loss to us all may be overruled
for good by Him who doeth all things
well.

Making More Than
a Living

Nearly every man who works
steadily makes more than a living. During these slow times
the men who have saved something appreciate what it is to have something laid away for a rainy day. A few cents a day
soon counts up, and when savings are placed in a bank at a tidy interest the sum soon grows
to proportions that make it a safeguard against want when work is not plentiful. Figure up how much more than a living
you are making now, and place

THE SPORTING WORLD

Mathewson in Class by Himself.
Christy Mathewson of the New York Nationals has proved this year the assertion often made that he is the greatest pitcher in baseball today. Of course he has had the advantage of working for a team that has played championship ball for the past two months. He has won thirty-one games out of forty. Eleven times he has blanked his opponents. He has given only forty bases on balls about one per game. He has struck out 225 men, or almost six per game and has allowed about six hits per contest.

Horse Racing in Florida.

From all indications Florida will have plenty of racing the coming winter. The Jacksonville project now is said to be an assured fact with T. D. Sullivan of New York and some of his friends and a development has already been made of a two months' meeting at Tampa, opening Dec. 3. Tampa takes a better town for racing in the way of possible local patronage, but against it is urged the fact that the track is not up to date. The Tampa track is said to be a half mile affair, and that kind will not go with horsemen when there is a mile track within easy reach. The Michigan and Jacksonville combination reads well, and if the promoters carry out their plans as announced they should hold the upper hand.

May Run English Marathon Over.

To show that England has runners capable of doing better time than Donato made in the Marathon race the London Evening News is offering a prize of $500 to be run for over the Marathon course on Oct. 10. Many famous runners have already entered, among them being Len Hurst and Charbonnel, the French champion. Although it is many years since he donned a running shoe, W. G. George has also entered, and he proposes to run the race with the aid of oxygen. "As I am now a veteran," he says, "I can hardly loose, even if I inhale oxygen, to beat the men of today, but I am going into training. I shall have a rough idea of what I can do without the gas, and if it will help me to make a good show that will be convincing and to me, at any rate, most interesting proof of its value."

Constance Titus to Row Again.

With the decision of Amateur Sculling champion Greer to quit and become a professional came the authentic report that Constance Titus, the former national champion, will get back into the game and attempt to regain his laurels at the next national regatta, thereby dashing the hopes of last year's champion, Bennett, and that wonderful competitor, O'Neill. Titus looked the bunch over at the last national and is satisfied he can beat his backwash to all with the exception of Greer. The latter's turn to the professional ranks gives him his opportunity. Greer is to become coach of the Western Rowing Club of St. Louis.

Soccer Is Growing on Coast.

So remarkable has been the progress made by association football in Portland, Ore., in the last three years that, where it was difficult to get an eleven to compete in the Lewis and Clark fair soccer tourney at all, this fall there will be a Portland city league, with probably six teams, governed by a central body on the California plan.

Jockey Lyne to Ride in Belgium.

Lucene Lyne, the noted American jockey, has written his parents, who reside in Lexington, Ky., that he has signed a contract to ride the remainder of this and all of next season for Lord Ribancourt, a noted Belgian turfman of Brussels. The monetary consideration is not stated in the letter. Lyne is riding now in England as a free lance.

The Barbary Horse.
A learned man of England has recently produced historical and scientific evidence showing that north Africa and not Arabia has the honor of originating the thoroughbred. All the finest horses of the world have sprung from the Barbary, and the Barbary horse came from the zebra of north-east Africa or from some closely allied species now extinct. King Solomon more than 600 years before the Christian era imported fine horses from Egypt, and Egypt got them from Libya, in Africa. The Arabs conquered north Africa and in doing so got possession of the Barbary horse. But, though it thus appears that Arabia is not the original home of the thoroughbred, it is his home now, and too much cannot be said in praise of the Arab's intelligent, affectionate care for the noble animal.

HINTS FOR FARMERS

French Gardening.

Owing to competition of the industrious and skillful French gardeners vegetables are sold at lower prices in Paris than in most European cities, and the surplus is shipped profitably to London and to large markets of continental Europe, even as far as St. Petersburg, says American Cultivator.

The system of French gardening produces such results that a family may live comfortably on the produce of one and a half to two acres. Careful preparation of the soil is the foundation. In starting a new garden the French gardener takes out the top soil and mixes and remixes it with manure. A fine surface of this mixed manure and soil is spread over a thick layer of manure, thus making a kind of hotbed, the heat from which produces the growth of vegetables in winter and early spring. The manure used is a mixture of dry material and fresh manure.

The vegetables are grown under bell jars or large glass frames. Plenty of water is used, the gardens being provided with motor pumps and a system of hose connected with underground pipes.

Crude Oil as a Disinfectant.

Some time ago we ordered a barrel of crude petroleum principally for the hogs, writes R. L. Dean in National Stockman. We have tried it in a number of ways. As a disinfectant it exceeds the refined product in the point of not evaporating so quickly, but being thicker it is not so easy to apply. It does not work well in the small sprinkling can. It somewhat disfigures the appearance of a hog for a week or two if he be light colored. Yet it does not burn the skin as kerosene sometimes does. It is excellent about the poultry house, especially when painted on the roosting poles. We believe the crude oil is a good tonic for the hogs, as we noted after sprinkling a few spoonfuls on the corn. On the whole, I do not regard crude oil as indispensable or superior to other disinfectants.

Calves in Winter.

The calves should by all means have a comfortable winter shed. The shed need not be expensive, but should be roomy and well ventilated, well drained and dry, says Farmers Advocate. A dirt floor with a good slope is as good as is needed. The floor should be well bedded with wheat straw, which is the best absorbent obtainable on the Kansas farm. The manure should be removed often and the floor kept sweet. The sheds should be well lighted, and a south front is best. A south slope is the ideal location. Close the shed on the north entirely, but have either a big window on the south or the shed partly open. Let the calf's bed be dry. He can stand a good deal of cold if he is kept dry.

Feeding the Work Horse.

Do not overlook the necessity of varying the ration of the work horse, says Farmers Advocate. There are farmers who feed their horses ten to twelve ears of corn three times a day, together with prairie hay and pasture, and the horse seems to do fairly well, but the horse requires a balanced ration, as does the man himself or the dairy cow. Unless the horse gets liberal pasture he will not obtain sufficient muscle and bone producing feed. The horse should have some bran, oats and alfalfa hay. These are the common feeds of the farm from which the horse can be supplied with bone and muscle. These will also add palatability, which is a thing worthy of consideration.

Corn For Poultry.

Several investigators at experiment stations in poultry feeding experiments to determine the relative feeding value of wheat and corn were much surprised to find, when their annual summary was made, that the heavily corn fed hens laid not only a greater number of eggs than those fed heavily on wheat, but that the eggs were larger and heavier and the hens were in much better condition at the end of the test. This experiment has been repeated many times, but the experiment was not needed to prove to practical men that corn, meaning good, sound, hard yellow Indian corn, is a particularly valuable feeding ration for fowls.—Poultry Journal.

Corn as a Forage Crop.

Experiments with corn have not shown it to be one of the best crops for pasturage for dairy stock. It furnishes pasturage earlier than sorghum and may be used before that crop is available and after rye or oats and peas are gone. It does not spring up readily after being eaten down. It is killed with a press drill as early in the spring as is safe, using two bushels of seed per acre. It should be allowed to grow eighteen inches or two feet high before being pastured. There is always considerable loss from trampling. For winter roughness corn is not so good as some of the other crops.—Nebraska Station Bulletin.

A Curse to Agriculture.

From time immemorial there has been a mania among farmers to buy more land. The idea has prevailed that to be successful one must own large areas of land. Until recently it has not occurred to the farmer that a few acres well tilled will produce more than double the amount poorly cultivated or cared for. There is but one kind of farming that requires much land in order to attain success. I refer to live stock farming, and even with this it is possible to so handle our pasture lands and meadows that 100 acres will produce from twice to four times as much as many now do.—W. B. Zinn in National Stockman.

Out Announcement That Works Will Start As Soon As Possible.

The glad tidings that the Charleroi plant, of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass company, will start in a few weeks, was brought to Charleroi at noon today, by Lee Chandler, a head official of the company and J. W. Cordes, head machinist of the entire company. Fires are to be lighted at once, and the factory will be running in full within three weeks for the first time since the first of March or over seven months. Hundreds will be given employment and Charleroi will again be at the head of the towns of the valley as a manufacturing centre.

A number of the old employees of the local works who went to Tarentum when the plant there started are returning to this place and many of the employees who live in the vicinity of Tarentum are coming to Charleroi, anticipating the opening in full of the works here. It is stated that the company will put to work a number of their old employees at clearing up the debris of the demolished factory at Tarentum and that the plant will be rebuilt. The latter statement is not given as a fact however for if the Pittsburgh Plate Glass company finds that with the Charleroi factory running, they can keep pace with the contracts which are being received, there will not be any need of the erection of another plant on the spot of the old one at Tarentum.

The Charleroi plant as has been stated in an above paragraph has been closed since the first of March. Work has been going on in one or more departments ever since, however, but on a very small scale, the only work done being that of the fulfillment of contracts which were on hands at the time of shutting down. Repairs have been made and that work is still being continued. The factory has run almost continuously for many years and much of the machinery was sadly in need of attention. It was understood that the works were to be reopened as soon as the company got everything in shape and had enough

Brownsville, Oct. 6.—Faster service on the Brownsville line of the West Penn will go into effect with the new schedule on that division Wednesday. Efforts have been made to reduce the running time on this line and the experiment will be given a thorough trial. Officials of the road have been working on this matter for some weeks past and have prepared a schedule which will, it is believed, meet the demands of the traveling public in this section.

Juvenile Court Hearings.
Charley Turner, a young colored lad of Donora, was in juvenile court yesterday on the charge of being incorrigible, and was committed to Morgantown. The boy has been in court before and was allowed to go on probation; but Mrs. Morris, a juvenile court representative, told the court that she believed it better that the lad be sent where he would not have so many temptations to do wrong.

Mules Coming to Surface.
Ellsworth, Oct. 5.—Over 1,200 men are idle as the result of the closing of the two mines at this place. The mules which have been housed in the mines for a long time will be brought to the surface as the fans will stop running owing to the scarcity of water. The Cokeburg mines were shut down a few days ago.

REPUBLICAN CAMPAIGN IS FORMALLY INAUGURATED IN WASHINGTON

The Republican campaign in Washington county was formally inaugurated last evening with the opening of headquarters in the Watson building, South Main street, Washington. There was a big attendance and in every way the opening was satisfying to all persons interested. Many of the candidates for office at the coming election were present and from the several representatives from various districts of the county the present situation, as far as the county ticket is concerned was thoroughly canvassed.

From this time until election day headquarters will be kept open. Much of the time County Chairman A. H. Anderson hopes to be present and during his absence C. E. Holder with a force of clerks will be on hand. Chairman Anderson said last night: "The opening of headquarters here marks the beginning of the campaign, which promises to be an aggressive one and every effort will be made to put through the straight ticket from Taft down, with the usual large majority."

Washington To Vote On City Petitions Court To Remit Money

Washington, Oct. 6.—The court yesterday afternoon, after several hours' hearing on the petition for writs of preceptory mandamus on the borough and council, commanding that they be required to submit to the voters the question of changing the borough into a third class city, granted the writ prayed for and made a decree that council should, without unnecessary and unreasonable delay, meet and provide for the adoption of the resolution required and give proper publication and take any other action needed in the premises; and that they do this promptly and efficiently.

C. E. Brooks, proprietor of the Eldora Merchandise Co., at Eldora, was thrown from a delivery wagon during a run away yesterday while driving from Eldora to Donora, and had his right leg badly fractured above the ankle.

Brooks was riding with the driver of the wagon, James Waters, and as they started down the hill at the cemetery one of the shafts broke and the horse bolted. With but one shaft attached to the horse the wagon was thrown from one side of the road to the other, and both Brooks and Waters were thrown to the ground.

Waters escaped but Brooks was badly bruised and his leg fractured. Brooks came to Eldora last Thursday from Pittsburgh with his family and took charge of the Eldora store. Doctors Woods, Day and Sprouls were called and reduced the fracture.

PASTORS OF METHODIST CHURCH ARE ASSIGNED

Vandergrift, Pa., Oct. 5.—The meeting of the Methodist Episcopal conference of the Pittsburgh district next year will be at Bellevue. This was decided when Rev. H. L. Smith, at this morning's session, invited the conference to make such decision, which, he said, was earnestly desired by the Methodist people there. Bellevue was chosen and no opposition was shown.

Rev. J. B. Risk presented the resolution that the prohibition alliance of the conference be resolved into the Conference Temperance society, that the objections might be removed of fanatical Methodists who have shrunk from an appearance of belonging to a political organization within the church, and turned in ready-made officers of the proposed new organization, including himself for president, and H. M. Carnahan for secretary and treasurer.

Assignments of pastors were made. Those in this district are as follows: Clatskanie, A. M. Duck; Canby, S. M. Mackey; Coal Centre, T. M. Dunkle; Monongahela, J. F. Murray; Marianna, J. G. McMinn; Donora, O. B. Emerson; Coal Centre, W. J. Law; Bentleyville, J. S. Allison, Jr.; Bensenville, O. B. Patterson; Allenport, W. E. Stetter.

Council Thinks Something Should Be Done At Once To
Keep Youngsters Off Streets After Curfew—MacBeth
Evans Company Presents Petition.

Complaints were in to council last night, at their regular meeting, concerning the failure of children of this place to pay any attention to the curfew at night and when approached by the police defying the authority of them to make them go home after the ringing of the bell. Not only this, the police say, but youngsters in many cases are defended by their parents who tell them that they do not have to obey the curfew. The police claim that they can do nothing in the matter, being unable to arrest the children under the age of sixteen. Council thought that something should be done, and that at once, so placed the matter in the hands of the police committee, with full power to act. They will investigate and learn the various phases of the law on the matter and then take such action as they see fit.

A representative of the MacBeth Evans Glass company, Mr. Schnellbach, was present with a petition to have the company released from the paying for fire plugs which they had installed a few years ago, at their own expense. It appears that there are seven plugs for which the company are paying at the rate of $35 per year or a total $245 per year. They claim that as they pay large tax in Charleroi and furnish a place for the employment of a large number of men that the expense of maintaining the plugs is too much and desire not only to have the borough take upon themselves the expense of these but also ask that they be reimbursed for the previous four years that they have stood the expense. Council arranged to go in a body to investigate on next Monday evening and take the matter up at their next meeting.

The bill of the West Penn Electric company for services extending from July 1st to September 30, the total amount of which is $1181.70 was held up, the members of council thinking that they are not getting the proper service. Mr. Johnson, of the company was present and heard complaints which were made.

SENTENCES ARE IMPOSED UPON
LIQUOR DEALERS
Three violators of the liquor law, on their pleas of guilty, were arraigned yesterday before Judge J. F. Taylor at Washington for sentence. William McCoy, an aged resident of Canonsburg was sentenced to pay a fine of $500 and costs and undergo imprisonment in the county jail three months. McCoy stated that he is aged 53 years, and that he engaged in the illegal sale of liquor to make a living and to keep from going to the poor house. The court remarked that it would have been more honorable in him if he had chosen the poor house instead of violating the law.

The son, Frank McCoy, was given a stiff sentence, as follows: For selling liquor illegally, $500 fine, costs and three months in the work house, to be commuted from the end of the first sentence; for selling on Sunday, $50 fine and 20 days to the work house; for selling to minors, $50 fine and 20 days to the work house.

Charles Greek, of Manifold, entered a plea of guilty to running a speakeasy and was sentenced to pay costs, $500 fine and undergo imprisonment in the workhouse three months.

Miners to Elect Officers.

In December the election of the officers of District No. 5, of United Miners' work will take place and
already the candidates are beginning
to warm up. Francis Feehan, who has been president for over two years
will be out for re-election, and will
be opposed as far as is known by but one man, James S. Clark, of Carnegie.
Both are popular men, but Feehan is
considered the stronger man by far.
He has held the position for two years
and now is in a successful third term.
A favorite among the miners of the district and a thorough and competent
mining man, the ones who will vote
will elect him without much opposition.

For the vice presidency there will doubtless be more of a conflict. The ones who have announced up to this time are A. Kephart, of Carnegie and
W. H. Jones of Roscoe. The race
for membership on the executive board
will also, it is thought, furnish some excitement.

There has been some talk of Patrick Dolan, the ex-president of this district getting into the fight, but
those who are familiar with the situation are confident that he will not take a hand. The discord between the present district officials and the national officers will cause Dolan to
use every effort to defeat Feehan,
however, but there is little chance for
any success in this direction. The discord has existed since T. L. Lewis
succeeded John Mitchell.

The district officials claim that the
national has placed organizers in this
field without consulting the district
officers and that these organizers have
tried to create dissension instead of
harmony, greatly to the disadvantage
of the district officers.

High Appropriation.

Eight million dollars will be expended for the education of children
in public schools in the state of Washington during the present scholastic year. This is $52 per capita, based on the average daily attendance of
more than 152,000, and is the highest
appropriation of any state in the Union. Fifty-one dollars per capita
or $7,200,000, was expended in 1907-8,
as against $5,649,856, at the rate of $42 a pupil, the previous year. Spokane headed the list in the United States on its investments in school

Briefs of the County

Washington, Oct. 6.—While they were walking out the Connecting railroad on their way home Saturday evening masked highwaymen held up and robbed Mr. and Mrs. James McIntyre.
The holdup is the most daring reported to the Washington officers for many a day. Mr. McIntyre was relieved of $30 cash and his watch was taken but given back to him.

Washington, Oct. 5.—Clem Borte returned home in time early Sunday morning to see a burglar going through the window in his room.
Bute took occasion to shoot three times at the fleeing form but it is thought none of the shots took effect.

Beallsville, Oct. 5.—As a result of a fall from his chair W. B. Lash, a veteran of the Civil war aged 73 years, is suffering at his home here from a dislocated hip. Mr. Lash has been an invalid for the past two years, one side being paralyzed.
While in this condition he attempted to rise from his chair and fell with the result.

Donora, Oct. 6.—The first half of the Donora-Webster bridge was swung yesterday and two gangs of riveters were busy with their "guns." The false work is all out and all but two rows of piling are pulled. It is expected that by tomorrow the pile
driver will be at work again on the other side of the river.
The flooring of the first three spans is nearly completed. If the winter
does not rise before the main span is completed the bridge will be ready for traffic by Christmas.

Poor Old Maids.

There are about twenty of us
Poor Old Maids
And we're in an awful muss
Poor Old Maids
For we've tried and tried in vain
Man's affections to obtain
Till we've fairly wrecked our brain
Poor Old Maids.
Oh, if we could only find
Poor Old Maids
Some few men to change their mind
Poor Old Maids
Then how happy we should be
From all worldly care set free
And we'd sing and dance with glee
Poor Old Maids.
Forty summers have we spent
Poor Old Maids
And invested many a cent
Poor Old Maids
But all in vain, it was no use
Upon us they just heaped abuse
And left us all without excuse
Poor Old Maids.
Now at last we found a plan
Poor Old Maids
Where each one might get a man
Poor Old Maids
So on Friday night at eight
Our sad story we'll relate
When we hope to meet our fate
Poor Old Maids.
There we ask each bachelor friend
Poor Old Maids
Our convention to attend
Poor Old Maids
'Tis the best chance of your life
For you all to choose a wife
And 'twill end our dreary strife
Poor Old Maids.
The admission is so low
Poor Old Maids
All should make a point to go
Poor Old Maids
And the money that is made
Will most fittingly be paid
To benefit the Ladies Aid
Poor Old Maids. 471p

Resolutions.

At the last regular meeting of Charleroi Court No. 41, Tribe of Ben
Hur, the following resolutions were adopted on the death of Mrs. Margaret B. Carroll:

Whereas, The Great and Supreme
Ruler of the Universe has in His infinite wisdom removed from among us
our worthy and esteemed sister,
Margaret B. Carroll; and whereas,
the long and intimate relation held
with her in the faithful discharge of
her duties in this society, makes it eminently benefitting that we record our appreciation of her; therefore

Resolved, That the wisdom and
ability which she has exercised in the
aid of our organization by service,
contributions and counsel, will be held
in grateful remembrance.

Resolved, That the sudden removal of such a life from our midst
leaves a vacancy and a shadow that
will be deeply realized by all the members and friends of this organization.

Resolved, That with sympathy with
the bereaved relatives of the deceased
we express our hope that even so
great a loss to us all may be overruled
for good by Him who doeth all things
well.

Resolved, That these resolutions be soread upon the records of this organization, and published in the local papers and a copy forwarded to the bereaved family and charter be draped in mourning for a period of 30 days.

BEST ATTRACTION OF THE SEASON

The bill as presented at the Star
theatre last night surpasses anything
that has been given there this season.
Two packed houses being the result.

The Darktown Minstrel Act which
is composed of a company of five is an
act that is highly pleasing and produces a continued laugh. It is opened
with the regulation minstrel setting
and is without doubt the best act of
its kind ever booked by the Star.
Palmer and Allison, banjoists are an exceedingly clever pair and the numbers rendered by them are all high
class. Rob Roy the man with the hats is in a class by himself and
affords great amusement to the audience. The moving pictures and
average.

of getting new goods, new styles at prices that will prove very interesting.

Mr. May cordially invites all the ladies of this and surrounding towns
to call and inspect his stocks. 451b

Making More Than a Living

Nearly every man who works
steadily makes more than a living. During these slow times
the men who have saved something appreciate what it is to
have something laid away for a rainy day. A few cents a day
soon counts up, and when savings are placed in a bank at a
tidy interest the sum soon grows
to proportions that make it a safeguard against want when
work is not plentiful. Figure
up how much more than a living
you are making now, and place
the difference in this bank.

Mathewson in Class by Himself.
Christy Mathewson of the New York Nationals has proved this year the greatest pitcher in baseball today. Of course he has had the advantage of working for a team that has played championship ball for the past two months. He has won thirty-one games out of forty. Eleven times he has blanked his opponents. He has given only forty bases on balls, about one per game. He has struck out 225 men, or almost six per game, and has allowed about six hits per contest.

Horse Racing in Florida.

From all indications Florida will have plenty of racing the coming winter. The Jacksonville project now is said to be an assured fact with T. D. Sullivan of New York and some of his friends and associates has already been made of a two months' meeting at Tampa, starting Feb. 8. Tampa claims a big crowd for racing in the way of possible local patronage, but against it is urged the fact that the plant is not up to date. The Tampa track is said to be a half mile affair, and that kind will not go with horsemen when there is a mile track within easy reach. The Micaniga and Jacksonville combination reads well, and in the promoters carry out their plans as announced they should hold the upper hand.

May Run English Marathon Over.

To show that England has runners capable of doing better time than Donondo made in the Marathon race the London Evening News is offering a prize of $500 to be run for over the Marathon course on Oct. 10. Many famous runners have already entered, among them being Len Hurst and Charbonnel, the French champion. Although it is many years since he donned a running shoe, W. G. George has also entered, and he proposes to run the race with the aid of oxygen. "As I am now a veteran," he says, "I can hardly hope, even if I inhale oxygen, to beat the men of today, but I am going into training. I shall have a rough idea of what I can do without the gas, and if it will help me to make a good show that will be convincing and to me, at any rate, most interesting proof of its value."

Constance Titus to Row Again.

With the decision of Amateur Sculling champion Greer to quit and become a professional came the authentic report that Constance Titus, the former national champion, will get back into the game and attempt to regain his laurels at the next national regatta, thereby dashing the hopes of last year's champion, Bennett, and that wonderful conquer, O'Neill. Titus looked the bunch over at the last national and is satisfied he can hold his backwash to all with the exception of Greer. The latter's turn to the professional ranks gives him his opportunity. Greer is to become coach of the Western Rowing club of St. Louis.

Soccer Is Growing on Coast.

So remarkable has been the progress made by association football in Portland, Ore., in the last three years that, where it was difficult to get an eleven to compete in the Lewis and Clark fair soccer tourney at all, this fall there will be a Portland city league, with probably six teams, governed by a central body on the California plan.

Jockey Lyne to Ride in Belgium.

Lucene Lyne, the noted American jockey, has written his parents, who reside in Lexington, Ky., that he has signed a contract to ride the remainder of this and all of next season for Lord Ribancourt, a noted Belgian turfman of Brussels. The monetary consideration is not stated in the letter. Lyne is riding now in England as a free lance.

The Barbary Horse.

A learned man of England has recently produced historical and scientific evidence showing that north Africa and not Arabia has the honor of originating the thoroughbred. All the finest horses of the world have sprung from the Barbary, and the Barbary horse came from the zebra of north-east Africa or from some closely allied species now extinct. King Solomon more than 900 years before the Christian era imported fine horses from Egypt and Egypt got them from Libya, in Africa. The Arabs conquered north Africa and in doing so got possession of the Barbary horse. But, though it thus appears that Arabia is not the original home of the thoroughbred, it is his home now, and too much cannot be said in praise of the Arab's intelligent, affectionate care for the noble animal.

French Gardening.
Owing to competition of the industrious and skillful French gardeners, vegetables are sold at lower prices in Paris than in most European cities, and the surplus is shipped profitably to London and to large markets of continental Europe, even as far as St. Petersburg, says American Cultivator. The system of French gardening produces such results that a family may live comfortably on the produce of one and a half to two acres. Careful preparation of the soil is the foundation. In starting a new garden the French gardener takes out the top soil and mixes and reuses it with manure. A fine surface of this mixed manure and soil is spread over a thick layer of manure, thus making a kind of hotbed, the heat from which produces the growth of vegetables in winter and early spring. The manure used is a mixture of dry material and fresh manure.

The vegetables are grown under bell jars or large glass frames. Plenty of water is used, the gardens being provided with motor pumps and a system of hose connected with underground pipes.

Crude Oil as a Disinfectant.

Some time ago we ordered a barrel of crude petroleum principally for the hogs, writes R. J. Dean in National Stockman. We have tried it in a number of ways. As a disinfectant it exceeds the refined product in the point of not evaporating so quickly, but being thicker it is not so easy to apply. It does not work well in the small sprinkling can. It somewhat disfigures the appearance of a hog for a week or two if he be light colored. Yet it does not burn the skin as kerosene sometimes does. It is excellent about the poultry house, especially when painted on the roosting poles. We believe the crude oil is a good tonic for the hogs, as we noted after sprinkling a few spoonfuls on the corn. On the whole, I do not regard crude oil as indispensable or superior to other disinfectants.

Calves in Winter.

The calves should by all means have a comfortable winter shed. The shed need not be expensive, but should be roomy and well ventilated, well drained and dry, says Farmers Advocate. A dirt floor with a good slope is as good as is needed. The floor should be well bedded with wheat straw, which is the best absorbent obtainable on the Kansas farm. The manure should be removed often and the floor kept sweet. The sheds should be well lighted, and a south front is best. A south slope is the ideal location. Close the shed on the north entirely, but have either a big window on the south or the shed partly open. Let the calf's bed be dry. He can stand a good deal of cold if he is kept dry.

Feeding the Work Horse.

Do not overlook the necessity of varying the ration of the work horse, says Farmers Advocate. There are farmers who feed their horses ten to twelve ears of corn three times a day, together with prairie hay and pasturage, and the horse seems to do fairly well, but the horse requires a balanced ration, as does the man himself or the dairy cow. Unless the horse gets liberal pasture he will not obtain sufficient muscle and bone producing feed. The horse should have some bran, oats and alfalfa hay. These are the common feeds of the farm from which the horse can be supplied with bone and muscle. These will also add palatability, which is a thing worthy of consideration.

Corn For Poultry.

Several investigators at experiment stations in poultry feeding experiments to determine the relative feeding value of wheat and corn were much surprised to find, when their annual summary was made, that the heavily corn fed hens laid not only a greater number of eggs than those fed heavily on wheat, but that the eggs were larger and heavier and the hens were in much better condition at the end of the test. This experiment has been repeated many times, but the experiment was not needed to prove to practical men that corn, meaning good, second, hard yellow Indian corn, is a particularly valuable feeding grain for fowls.—Poultry Journal.

Corn as a Forage Crop.

Experiments with corn have not shown it to be one of the best crops for pasturage for dairy stock. It furnishes pasturage earlier than sorghum and may be used before that crop is available and after rye or oats and peas are gone. It does not spring up rapidly after being eaten down. It is drilled in with a press drill as early in the spring as is safe, using two bushels of seed per acre. It should be allowed to grow eighteen inches or two feet high before being pastured. There is always considerable loss from trampling. For winter roughness corn is not so good as some of the other crops.—Nebraska Station Bulletin.

A Curse to Agriculture.

From time immemorial there has been a mania among farmers to buy more land. The idea has prevailed that to be successful one must own large areas of land. Until recently it has not occurred to the farmer that a few acres well tilled will produce more than double the amount poorly cultivated or stubbed out. There is but one kind of farming that requires much land in order to attain success. I refer to live stock farming, and even with this it is possible to so handle our pasture lands and meadows that 100 acres will produce from twice to four times as much as many now do.—W. B. Zinn in National Stockman.
